Canine Pet Rescue Newsletter

Dear Joanne,

Happy Holidays from CPR. 2010 was our first full year as a 501c3, and WOW! what an incredible year we have had.

Here are some of our 2010 numbers:

54 adoptions
64 transfers/transports

We also held our first major fundraiser, All In For CPR, Texas Hold'em Tournament which was a huge success! Be on the lookout in early 2011 for next years Save The Date.

Our volunteers have been without a doubt, the main reason for our success in 2010. There are so many of you that have given selflessly of your time (walking, transports etc) and money that I am afraid to start listing all of you for fear I will leave someone out. You know who you are, and on behalf of myself and the entire Board of Directors a huge THANK YOU!

We have our work cut out for us in 2011, mainly getting the kennel built. If any of our readership needs to make a final year end donation via your company, or personally please contact me. We are needing someone to donate the concrete foundation for the kennel. I will be happy to send you the plans for the kennel so you can see about how much concrete we will need. Our goal is to have the kennel up and running by April 2011. Please think about CPR as you determine your year end giving.

To all of you and your families, Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year!

Thank you for your continued support of CPR and more importantly, the dogs.

Sincerely,

Carla Brown

Holiday Hazards and your Pets

Holiday Plants - Christmas Rose, Holly, Lilies are all toxic to dogs and cats

Ribbons - It may look adorable, but placing a ribbon around your pet's neck may cause them to choke

Bubbling lights - Older forms of this attractive decoration may contain methylene chloride, which is a highly toxic chemical

Fire Salts - Contain Chemicals that could be harmful to pets

Angel Hair (spun glass) - Can be irritating to eyes and skin and cause intestinal obstruction if eaten in large amounts

Christmas Tree Water - stagnant tree water or water containing preservatives could result in stomach upset if ingested

Decoration Hooks - can cause blockage and or trauma to gastrointestinal tract if swallowed

Styrofoam - can cause pets to choke if swallowed, these can look like toys to cats and dogs, but they can cause serious injury, especially if your pets break or swallow them

Tinsel - can cause choking or internal trauma if swallowed

Please email Joanne Cornish a 250 word or less Bio. Please include any experience you have had with dogs. Your preferred schedule (pick a day of the week) and a time to call and set up an interview with one of our volunteers.

Please do not apply if you are not able to commit. It takes a few times meeting the dogs for them to get comfortable with you and you with them. These dogs have come from a variety of rescue circumstances and some of them have behavioral issues that you will need to know about and work through with them.

Submissions will be accepted Dec 1 - 15th so pass this along!

Monthly Giving:

As you look towards your 2011 giving, we hope you will consider setting up Monthly Giving to CPR. When you go to our donation page, you can set an amount that will billed to your credit card each month. No amount is too small and every penny donated goes to the care of the dogs. We have no paid staff, just wonderful

Bank of America Giving

The Bank of America Charitable Foundation Matching Gifts program encourages associates to contribute to qualifying charitable organizations. The program offers a way to double - up to $5,000 (US) per person each calendar year - associates' cash or securities contributions to their favorite charitable organizations and thus improve their communities.

If you know of anyone who works for Bank of America please ask them if they would like to contribute to CPR. Pool your donation with theirs to increase the match!

volunteers that assist with the dogs daily care.

CPR would like to recognize the following monthly donors

- Gary Cann
- Shelley Hickman
- Mark A. Lewis

Yes! I want to set up monthly automatic donations

Wanda Stover, Indy's Guardian Angel

Some people may say "Its just a dog" but not Wanda. She has been Indy's primary care giver since that horrible accident when Indy was hit by a car in July. Wanda has spent countless hours at the vet, changing dressings, teaching her to walk again and nursing her back to health.

We know that Indy thanks you Wanda, we just want everyone else in the world to know how special you are to CPR and all the dogs that you have helped.

Merry Christmas!
